50mm Steering Spacer

2013+ FR-S, GT86, BRZ

WARNING

1. This component should be installed by a professional mechanic. If you decide to install the component yourself, you will need a factory service manual for removal and installation procedures as well as torque setting.
2. The spacer is asymmetrical (see Figure 1). Be sure to install with etched line on top when wheels are pointed straight ahead (see Figure 2).
